DAY ONE

Tuesday 27 October 2009

OHS-Singing Off the Same Page

Conference Opening

8.45am

Open & Welcome to Country

Uncle Des Dyer

Darug Elder, The Darug Aboriginal Landcare Corporation

Keynote Address - New Framework

9.00am

Establishing National Uniform OHS Laws

Prof Ron McCallum AO

Professor of Labour Law, Faculty of Law,
University of Sydney

Examine the steps which are being taken to establish national uniform OHS laws for Australia. On 18 May 2009, the Workplace Relations Ministerial Counsel accepted most of the review panel's recommendations. Currently a model statute is being drafted. Unpack these events to place them within the broad context of Australia's several OHS regimes.

10.00am

Safe Work Australia - Harmonising OHS Legislation

Tom Phillips AM

Chair, Safe Work Australia Council

Safe Work Australia is the principal national organisation driving policy development in relation to occupational health and safety (OHS) and workers' compensation. The top priority of Safe Work Australia is the harmonisation of OHS legislation.

10.30am - 11.00am Morning Tea

Application of Framework

11.00am

Matt Goldrick

General Manager, Prevention & Rehabilitation, Comcare

The Government's move to harmonisation of OHS regulation in Australia could alter the manner in which jurisdictions operate. Stakeholders are looking for relevant information, ideas and strategies to assist them to develop robust capabilities and respond to the adoption of OHS model laws.

11.30am

Working Towards Harmonisation in NSW

John Watson FSIA (Hon)

General Manager, OHS Division, WorkCover NSW

Be updated on the progression in NSW of the harmonisation agenda, including WorkCover's involvement in cross jurisdictional arrangements and some of the achievements of these arrangements in promoting harmonisation.

12.00pm

Why Safe Business is Good Business

Dr Ian Woods

Senior Research Analyst, Sustainable Funds Team, Australian Equities

From an investors' perspective, poor OH&S performance reflects poor management of avoidable company costs. It also reflects that a company is not managing one of its important intangible assets, its people. Learn how investors use OH&S performance to gain insight into company management and what as owners we expect companies to be doing.

12.30pm - 2.00pm Lunch

National Harmonisation of Legislation

2.00pm

OH&S Harmonisation - What Will the Model Act Mean for Your Business?

Michael Selinger

Holding Redlich Lawyers

Examine the proposed changes to OH&S legislation under a unified national OH&S system and in particular its impact on businesses operating in New South Wales. Consider the National Review Panel's recommendations for the model Act and the details of the exposure draft model Act which is due to be released in the second half of 2009.

2.25pm

OHS Enforcement Regimes - How Will They Be Harmonised?

Scarlet Reid

Special Counsel, Henry Davis York

Hear a review and assessment of the key legal differences between the OHS enforcement regimes in each jurisdiction in Australia. Learn the key differences between jurisdictions, how the prosecution process differs, and what effect harmonisation will have.

2.50pm

Personal OHS Liability of Company Officers Under the Harmonised Scheme

Neil Foster

University of Newcastle

Personal criminal liability of company officers plays a key role in encouraging company compliance with OHS obligations. Hear a suggested national model and an evaluation of whether the proposed model will be effective in seeing that companies pay closer attention to OHS responsibilities.

3.10pm

Incident Management Under Harmonised OHS Laws

Lea Constantine

Partner, Blake Dawson

Consider the ways in which regulators are likely to investigate incidents under harmonised OHS laws. Understand the powers of regulators through the investigation process, together with the rights and obligations of corporations and individuals as well as protection from self-incrimination.

3.30pm - 4.00pm Afternoon Tea

4.00pm

Harmonisation Panel Discussion

Moderated by

Michael Tooma CPMSIA, Partner, Deacons

Panellists

Prof Michael Quinlan University of New South Wales

John Watson FSIA (Hon),

General Manager, OHS Division, WorkCover NSW

Geoff Fary Assistant Secretary, ACTU

Greg Pattison General Manager Workplace Solutions, NSW Business Chamber

The Harmonisation of OHS laws is potentially the biggest reform of OHS laws in over 30 years. It has been something that all stakeholders have long lobbied for - albeit with different visions of what harmonised laws will look like.

With the draft model laws expected in October 2009, this panel session will provide a timely platform for each of the stakeholders, unions, represented by Geoff Fary, employers, represented by Greg Pattison, and expert commentary by Professor Mike Quinlan from an academic perspective.

This promises to be a well informed, entertaining and well argued discussion covering everything from the new primary duty, the officers' liability, penalties and the role of unions in safety enforcement.

Concludes 5.00pm

Holistic Services Group's wonderful massage therapists will be providing complimentary relaxing seated massages for Conference delegates.

DAY TWO

Wednesday 28 October 2009

Strike The Right Cord

Keynote Address

9.00am

Oh $#@! Where'd That Come From! David Broadbent

Safety Psychologist, TransformationalSafety.com
Travel with David G Broadbent as he talks freely about surviving a near fatal accident (24+ fractures) and its implications to safety programs around the world.

10.00am

Best Practice OHS Reporting Sharron O'Neill

Faculty of Economics and Business,
University of Sydney

Examination of Annual and Sustainability Reports reveals substantial variation in the quality and quantity of OHS disclosures. Take an evidence-based look at information demand and supply trends. Recognise what stakeholders want. See what companies provide. Learn what it takes to deliver meaningful and high quality public accounts of OHS performance.

Holistic Services Group's wonderful massage therapists will be providing complimentary relaxing seated massages for Conference delegates.

Old Dogs: New Tricks (Lessons Learnt)

Stream Chair Doug Wakefield CPMSIA, SafeMeasure

11.00am

A Military Lesson Identified with Enormous Potential for Industry and Organisational Risk Management

David Harris

Managing Director, Raptor SSC Pty Ltd

David will describe a military incident which proved significant in the development of Army's new Military Risk Management processes. He will explain how lessons identified in that case study are relevant to the risk management community, and outline a new assumption based, risk appreciation method for managing risk.

11.30am

Hazard Control in Rail Infrastructure Design and Construction: How Safe is Safe Enough?

Alan Ross

A & K Ross Associates Pty Ltd

Consider how to ensure, as far as is practicable, effective decision making where there is an actual or potential impact on safety. Understand the issues and suggest a process, often lacking in the real world, to deal with those issues.

12.00pm

Safety Positive Performance Indicators (PPIs) Ten Years On: A National Employer Experience

Claere Kay, Clyde Crawford & Natalie Taig CPMSIA
Australia Post

Gain insight into the performance, ten years on, of a safety positive performance indicator (PPI) system introduced at Australia Post. Be updated on the positive results of the system and learn about the strategies planned for dealing with the limitations.

12.30pm - 2.00pm Lunch

2.00pm

Ageing Workforce - Implications for the OHS Sector

Wayne Bishop

Activetics Pty Ltd

The economic downturn will mean that a third of mature workers now plan to remain in the workforce until they are at least 70 with ABS research showing that most intend to ease down to part-time work. Examine the business impact of demographic shifts and be updated on how progressive organisations are tackling these emerging challenges.

2.30pm

Are We as Young, Fit and Clever as We Used to Be?

Explaining How Our Risk of Injury or Death Changes as We Grow Older

Prof Joseph Ibrahim

Consultant Physician, Victorian Institute of Forensic Medicine

Explore how the risk of injury and death changes as workers become older using case studies. These cases provide a focus for discussing how changes in cognition, physical functioning, knowledge and experience impact on safe work practice.

3.00pm - 3.30pm Afternoon Tea

3.30pm

Leadership in a Crisis - Who Should Take Charge?

Ross Campbell

Ross Campbell & Associates

Understand the traits of successful crisis leaders who can deliver rapid response in the worst case scenario to save lives, property and ensure minimal operational interruption. Hear examples to learn how crises benefit from effective leadership among key stakeholders.

4.00pm

NSW Fire Brigades Lessons Learned Centre: Transforming Hindsight Bias

Chief Superintendent Gary Meers

Assistant Director Strategy & Planning, NSW Fire Brigades

During 2007, with a vision of the NSW Fire Brigades becoming a legitimate learning organisation, the Commissioner identified a Lessons Learned capability as fundamental to embedding operational learnings. The NSWFB needed to become a safer organisation characterised by a learning bias. Hear a case study about a journey of 'learning to learn' and the future of the NSWFB Lessons Learned Centre.

4.30pm

From Albury to Ballina and Beyond

Larry Drewson

WorkCover NSW

Gain insight into experience gained during the early days of cross border projects and on the construction of the major freeway network in the Southern part of NSW and in its Northern perimeter at Ballina. Explore the possible future direction of partnerships, and their application in improving OHS outcomes in NSW.

5.00pm Concludes

Are you Being Served - Safely (Hospitality)

Stream Chair Terry Flanders CPMSIA, Investigation Systems

11.00am

Official Opening

Albert Gardner

Director of Liquor and Gaming

11.20am

Initiatives for the Responsible Service of Alcohol

Chief Inspector Anthony Cooke

Commander Alcohol and Licensing Enforcement Command, NSW Police

The difference between public safety and workplace health & safety may only be the distance it takes to walk outside a licensed venue.

Discuss NSW Police initiatives dealing with alcohol consumption and safety.

11.55am

'In Working Order' an Educational Program for High School Students to Increase Awareness of OHS in the Workplace Funded Under the WorkCover Assist Grants Program

Joanne Kemp & Tania O'Donnell

WorkCover NSW

OHS risks associated with young workers differ from that of older workers. Gain an overview of the project 'In Working Order - an OHS Toolkit for Young Workers' that was developed by Youthsafe, the Australian Retailers Association and WorkCover NSW to increase awareness of OHS in the Workplace.

12.30pm - 2.00pm

2.00pm

Injury Prevention Strategies in the Hospitality Industry

David Trembearth CPMSIA

Principal Consultant, WSP Environmental Pty Ltd

Hear an ergonomic review of common tasks in the hospitality industry and consider the need for a comprehensive systems approach to controlling manual handling risk and injury prevention including such measures as identification of risk behaviours, procurement programs and workplace safety culture.

2.30pm

Emergency Incident Evacuation: What You Need to Know

Steven Baker

Manager Counter Terrorism and Aviation,

New South Wales Fire Brigades (NSWFB)

Learn what you need to consider as an occupier of premises to ensure that evacuation procedures are immediate, effective and consistent with the life safety strategies and tactics of arriving emergency services personnel.

3.00pm - 3.30pm Afternoon Tea

3.30pm

Precarious Employees: Managing Safety for Contractors

Vince Asdagi

DuPont Australia

Examine recent employment trends and gain insight into how world class business leaders manage contractors and ensure their onsite safety.

Hear statistical and anecdotal data, and identify the safety challenges and what can be done to ensure contractors' safety.

4.15pm

WorkCover NSW and ClubsNSW Partnership

Jasmina Budisa, WorkCover NSW

Anthony Ball, ClubsNSW

Learn about a Partnership Agreement between WorkCover's

Retail Wholesale Consumer & Business Services Team and ClubsNSW which aims to develop practical and effective approaches to OHS workers compensation and injury management in the clubs industry.

5.00pm Concludes

Behaviour that Binds (Safety Culture)

Stream Chair Rodger Fairfax CPMSIA, Railcorp

11.00am

Could Zero Harm be Killing our People?

Phillip Byard

The InterSafe Group

Consider the merits of the Zero Harm concept. We still experience fatalities and life altering damage in our workplaces. Could these outcomes be prevented?

If so does Zero Harm increase or decrease the likelihood of that prevention?

11.30am

BOC Driver Safety

Juliana Jamal

BOC Limited

Gain insight into BOC's Regional Driver Working Group which aims to reduce the number of driving incidents of both

BOC employees and contractors, establish a safe driving culture at BOC and ensure that all accidents are reported no matter how minor.

Learn about the resulting change in attitude toward driver safety.

12.00pm

What To Do When Incidents Are Not Caused by OHS Management System Deficiencies

Cristian Sylvestre

Principal Consultant, Safetrain Pty Ltd

Hear findings from research carried out to identify why people still have incidents even though organisations have a mature and effective OHS Management System in place. Expose areas of focus that would not normally be targeted and how these areas can be linked to the OHS Management System to improve OHS culture and performance.

12.30pm - 2.00pm Lunch

2.00pm

Sustainable Business Starts With Safety

Vince Asdagi

DuPont Australia

Hear why the most appropriate starting point for a sustainability-focused culture is through excellence in workplace safety. Discuss issues including leveraging safety for corporate sustainability performance and the current market turmoil and its impact on safety and sustainability programming.

2.30pm

Implementing a Sustained Safety Culture Transformation

Carl Luttig

CEO, ZEAL Group Pty Ltd

Learn the key elements of an effective culture change program;

the underpinning philosophical models and desired behaviours, tools for assessing the organisation's readiness for change and managing points of interface for tactical and strategic drivers of a sustainable culture change.

3.00pm - 3.30pm Afternoon Tea

3.30pm

Effectiveness of Consultation Processes in Assisting with Safety Culture Change for a Large Retailer

Phil Wiffen

Sydney Institute of TAFE

Hear results of a study of a consultation program in a large retailer encompassing 70 stores across NSW. Consider the attitudes of management, consultation committee and staff to OHS and learn how the consultation committee has affected change.

4.00pm

Process Change - Does it Equate to Cultural Change?

Steven Scott Manager, WSP Environmental

Steven Dixon CarterHoltHarvey

Gain insight into a real life process change project and learn about the attitudinal and behaviour modifications achieved.

Hear about the benefits including the involvement of shop floor employees who contributed their knowledge of the complex manufacturing process taking charge of the development of SOP's.

4.30pm

Safety Leadership is not Safety Management

Dave Whitfield

Baseline Training Group

Safety leadership is now a common place term in OHS, particularly in reference to safety culture change and is an effective culture change tool if used correctly. Understand pitfalls encountered by organisations starting out on this journey, and gain strategies to avoid them.

5.00pm Concludes

DAY THREE

Thursday 29 October 2009

Tuned to Keep the Beat

Keynote Address

9.00am

I love my job but...

David Brown

Workplace Psychologist

There's a troll in the workplace. If we call him 'stress' he'll always win. But if we use his real names we can send him packing!
Tired - attention fatigue and how to minimise it.
Upset - spoiled relationships and how you can sometimes fix them.
Disillusioned - when the world turned inside out.
Afraid - how to get back on the horse - and when not to!

9.30am

Death of a Welder: Research into the Electrical Conductivity of Welding Garments

Ian Price

OHS & Training Manager, Tahmoor Colliery

Prof John Norrish

Faculty of Engineering, University of Wollongong

In 2004 a Tradesperson Boilermaker suffered fatal injuries whilst preparing to undertake manual arc electric welding tasks at a Coke Preparation Plant in a suburb of Wollongong. Subsequent investigations established that the tradesperson was wearing damp garments that were believed to have increased electrical conductivity and lowered bodily resistance. Hear results from research to establish safe levels in which to weld in raised humidity.

10.00am - 10.30am Morning Tea

Holistic Services Group's wonderful massage therapists will be providing complimentary relaxing seated massages for Conference delegates.

Rhythm of Life (Wellness)

Stream Chair Felicia Harris, TAFE NSW

10.30am

Turn Stress Into Success

Dr Helena Popovic

Mission SlimPossible

Gain strategies to fortify your mind and body so that you're less likely to experience negative stress in the first place and learn how to raise your stress threshold. Learn the steps to deal with stress when you're in the middle of it - so that you not only survive but thrive.

11.00am

Service Provider Management Framework in NSW Workers Compensation System

Mary Hawkins

WorkCover NSW

Learn about initiatives being introduced by Northern American jurisdictions and contrast and compare these with initiatives in NSW. Consider the question, if there is so much evidence about the efficacy of particular treatments, and the importance of returning workers as soon as possible to meaningful work activity, why are we experiencing longer claims duration and increased costs in compensation schemes, and what can we do differently?

11.30am

Meditation for Work Stress - An Effective, Low Cost, Evidence Based Approach

Dr Ramesh Manocha

School of Women's and Children's Health, UNSW

Hear results of a recent study to assess the effect of a new understanding of meditation, characterised by the experience of mental silence, on work related stress, anxiety and depressive feelings.

12.00pm

The Effect of Workplace Hazards on the Human Body

Michael Middleton FSIA

Managing Director, Midd-West Risk Management

Be taken on a walk through workplace hazardous situations, and relate (statistically, pictorially and verbally), commonly known reactions of the human body when it has been exposed to such hazards. You will then add relevant examples of hazards and their consequence to the worksheet provided.

12.30pm - 2.00pm Lunch

2.00pm

Moot Court

Michael Tooma CPMSIA

Partner, Deacons

The National OHS team at national law firm Deacons will host a mock trial on OHS illustrating through a case study the process involved with OHS trials in NSW and the legal consequences for OHS breaches. You will not want to miss this entertaining way to illustrate the scope of the duties, personal liability and the consequences of being hauled before the Court to explain your actions in the aftermath of an accident. The session will be narrated by leading OHS expert Michael Tooma and acted by the Deacons OHS team. Audience participation will be encouraged.

4.00pm Concludes

OHS Management Systems - Workshops

Presented by

Cristian Sylvestre

Principal Consultant, Safetrain Pty Ltd

With a more holistic understanding of the 4 approaches, we will map each of these into an organisation's safety journey model.

The safety practitioner will be able to select the most suitable approach to their organisation and determine how to get the maximum out of the time and effort they put in.

Who should attend

- / Safety practitioners that have not been exposed to all 4 approaches
- / Operational or safety practitioners that are looking for the next step improvement in safety performance
- / Anyone involved in or interested in safety management
- / People new to the safety management field

10.30am

Safety Management Systems (SMS)

We will build an information flowchart for a typical SMS to enable participants to understand how an SMS comes together. This will be based on OHSAS18001 or AS4801.

11.00am

Safety Leadership

We will outline what is meant by safety leadership, what makes good safety leadership and learn the safety leadership behaviours that are critical.

11.30am

Behaviour Based Safety (BBS)

We will explore the theory of BBS and the requirements to make such an initiative work in an organisation.

12.00pm

Personal Safety (Human Error Prevention)

This is the latest safety approach to come out of Canada. We all know that we make mistakes unintentionally but no one ever talks about it because it is not well understood. Find out how people make mistakes and what you can do personally to minimise human error for you and your company.

12.30pm - 2.00pm Lunch

Preparing the Professional

Stream Chair Sara Reding CPMSIA

10.30am

Ensuring You Are Meeting the Suitably Qualified Criteria

Barry Silburn CFSIA

President, Safety Institute of Australia

As a senior employee or a service supplier you need to ensure you are suitably qualified to give OHS advice. Understand the requirements to ensure you maintain your professional standards as a qualified advisor.

11.00am

Strategic Directions and Professional Complaints

Gary Lawson-Smith

CEO, Safety Institute of Australia

The SIA's 60th Anniversary in 2009 has provided time to reflect on a proud history but also to formulate the Institute's strategic directions to advance the science of safety and health through professional excellence. Take this opportunity to give feedback on these new strategic directions.

11.30am

The SIA Code of Ethics

Andrew Alexandra

University of Melbourne

Focus on the SIA Code of Ethics as an element in an occupational integrity system, and consider the educative, integrative, and regulatory functions of the code.
